Artists' Quotes

- "From scrap metal to salvation, that is the process I use to elevate the crude to the sublime in my sculptures. It is also a metaphor for the spiritual transformation that guides and gets expressed through my work. ~Pierre Richie
- "There are precious moments when the mind is quiet and I can enjoy my senses without interference. Sculpting, at its best, includes such moments." ~Bryan Tedrick
- "Steel sculpture is a paradox. It yields under heat and hammer becoming almost fluid, yet incredibly unforgiving when cold. Its creation becomes a deliberate and conscience decision." ~Michael Seymour
- "Creativity takes courage." ~ Henri Matisse
- "I was lured in. Staring at the fire, and witnessing the magic as the molten metal danced around has indelibly burnt itself into me." ~David Mudgett
- "Life's experiences, constraints, emotions, and current natural environment at hand often inspire the interconnections between each fabricated element of any given work." ~Hector M. Ortega
- "My work focuses on themes of nature, science, and spirituality. I seek to create dialogue around these themes and raise questions about what we share in common as a society." ~Peter Hassen
- "Sculpture occupies real space like we do... you walk around it and relate to it almost as another person or another object." ~Chuck Close
- "My sculptures can appear as dreamlike images in which fiction and reality meet, well-known tropes merge, meanings shift, past and present fuse. Time and memory always play a key role." ~Stan Huncilman
- "Through years of working with stone and other materials to make figurative, functional or informative works, I have always strived to create art that is unusual." ~M.C.Carolyn
- "As an artist, I find inspiration and fuel for creative expression by contemplating the world around me." ~Adrian Littman
- "Technique is just a means of arriving at a statement." ~ Jackson Pollock
- "What is art if it does not move people to a new awareness?" ~Adrian Litman
- "The process of making a sculpture is a spiritual practice myths are stories and help us find spiritual footing and make the point that because of culture we are never truly alone." ~Joseph Castle
